HOOVER
HIGH SCHOOL

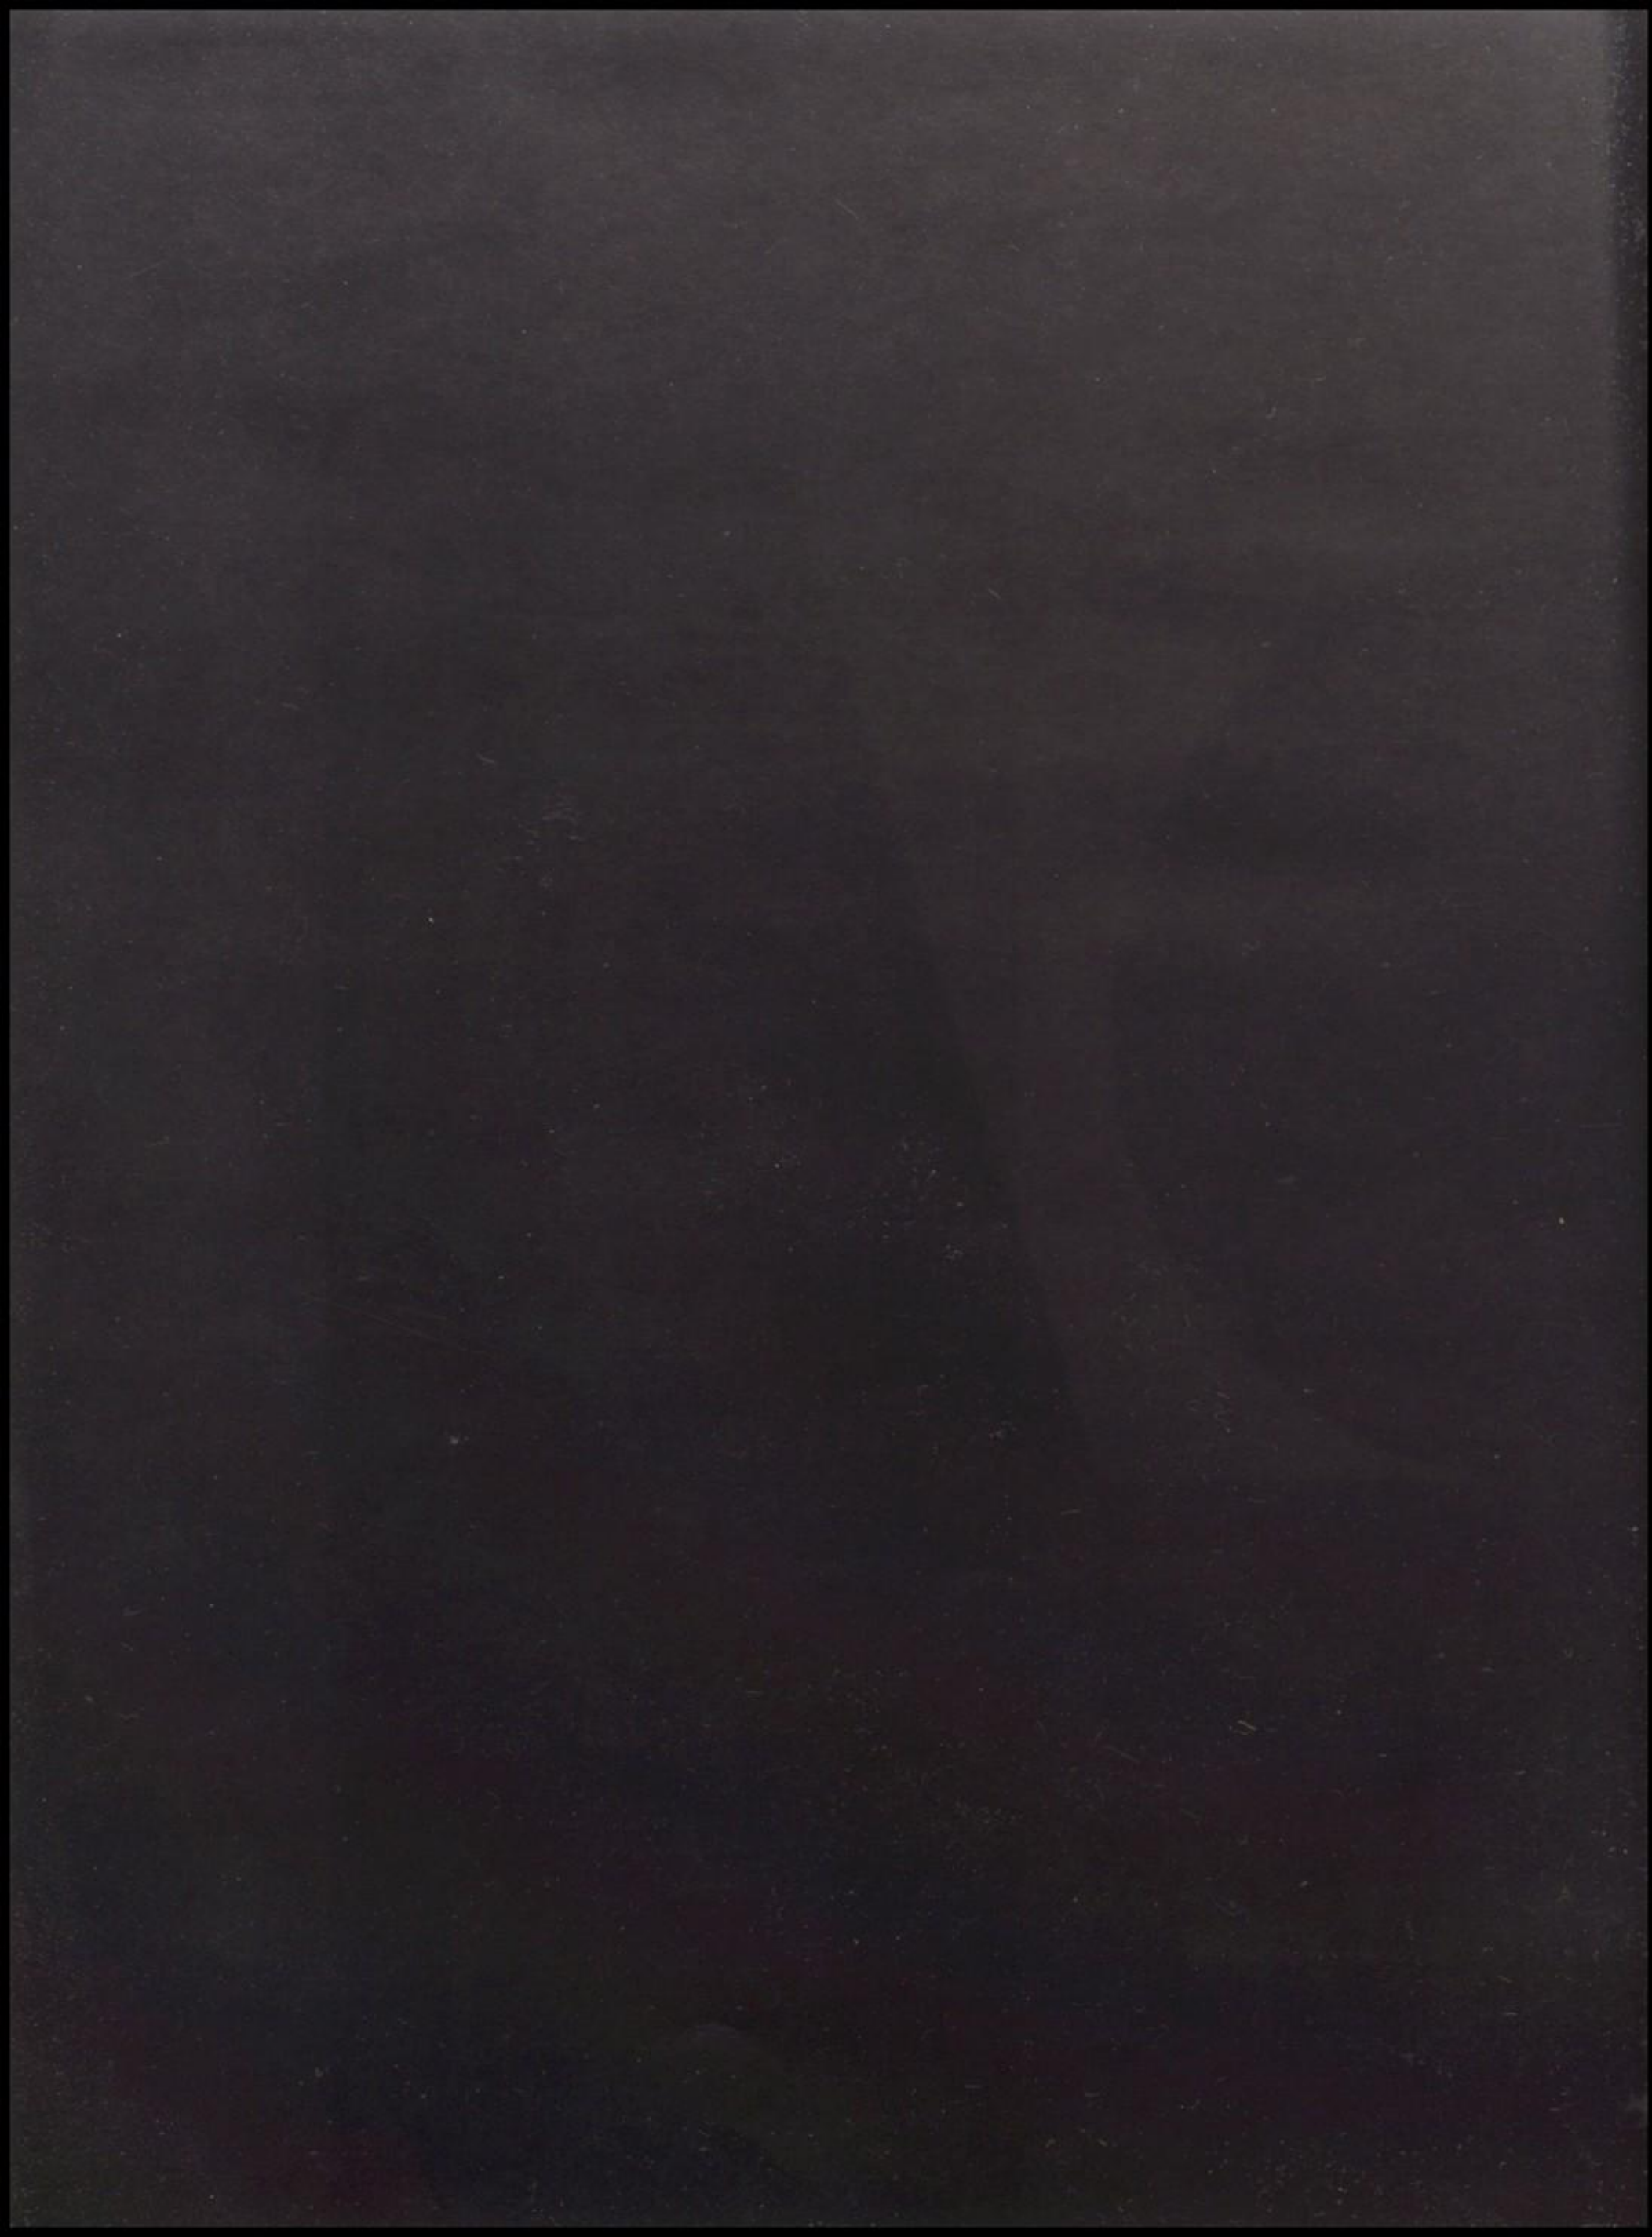

VIKING 1970

HOOVER HIGH NORTH CANTON, OHIO

Noses pressed to the glass, freshman-to-be peered down the dark, empty halls of Hoover, wondering what was in store for them. They did not discover until fall, and perhaps still do not fully realize, that Hoover has the potential to offer them growth, romance, gaiety, and learning. Not until four years later when they are preparing to don cap and gown can they judge how much of this potential opportunity they were able to capitalize on. Even the least interested of students will admit, perhaps years later, that his experiences at Hoover served as a guiding light to the future.

stay dent life

To every thing there is a season,
And a time to every purpose under the heaven.
 These are the sensitive years, when together we reach out and touch life—
 taking it to us and making it our own.
 We feel the joy of victory and the agony of defeat.
 We know the turbulent emotions of love and hate,
 hope and despair.
 Together we begin life's greatest adventure—
 Youth.

A time to sow and a time to reap . . .

We face the complexities of new dimensions of thought, as we probe the secrets of our minds.

The seeds grow in the fertile soil of curiosity, and we seek the why of our existence.

The marvelous machinery of life unfolds before young eyes both eager and awed.

A time to laugh . . .

We are swept up in the joyous exuberance of youth.
We capture and hold the magic and wisdom of childhood, and upon it
we will build tomorrow.

A time of love and a time of peace . . .

Sensitive, aware of the magnificence of being young and alive, we glory in our love affair with life.

We laugh and sing and dream with all the power and ecstasy that is ours.

Love itself is a dew-fresh discovery to newly-awakened hearts.
Our child's world of ME widens to the beauty of US.

The long road is easier to travel because we share it hand-in-hand, and we find solace in the warmth of each other's arms.

How strange it is to imagine a time when we are no longer young and ardent and full of dreams!

So soon these hours slip away, and yet their magic will touch our hearts whenever we look back . . .

For we knew these things, because we were young.

INTELLIGENT STAFF AIDS DR. BRANDAU

Working in cooperation with the Board of Education and in close contact with faculty, parents, and the public, Dr. Brandau strives to maintain and improve North Canton Schools. Although this was his first year as superintendent in North Canton, he previously held the same title at Fairless Schools. He was challenged this year by various building programs in addition to regular work. Mr Hudson and Mr. Russell insured Dr. Brandau valuable assistance.

Mrs. Brown dedicated herself to attending the office work that is necessary for maintaining a quality school system. Her many services are greatly appreciated.

Although most of the work has been done with children from the city's elementary schools, the program is also available to the secondary student. Children work with the psychologist in hopes that their educational and emotional problems may be solved.

Mrs. Hamlin is available to teachers so that they may discuss any problems in classroom procedure which require special attention. Mrs. Durben fulfills the secretarial duties for the entire staff.

The study of English is aimed toward providing the student with a better understanding of his language and the means by which he can use it to his advantage. As a freshman, the student explores forms of literary types. The sophomore year is devoted to the study of American literature; the junior year, to English literature. The senior program is new this year. Each student chooses four nine-week courses to fit his interests. Speed reading is available for improvement in speed and comprehension, while Business English teaches proper methods of business communication.

The language department of Hoover High School offers courses in German, Latin, Spanish, and French. Spanish, the newest addition to the curriculum, may be studied for only two years, while the others are four-year programs. Besides learning the fundamentals of foreign languages, the student, through these courses, becomes more aware of cultures and people around the world. The language laboratories enable students to familiarize themselves with the problems of the actual communication of the language, making speech easier to learn and understand.

Peculiarities of other languages are more easily understood through the use of visual aids.

FUTURE DEPENDS ON PAST

A deep understanding of social studies is imperative for students in today's world. The social studies courses at Hoover attempt to supply students with this understanding. World history provides students with a background of the world and its conflicts. American history is a requirement for all juniors. The United States and its problems are discussed in American government, which is taken by seniors. Contemporary problems, a newly innovated course at Hoover, deals with the effect of war and peace on the world. Another new course is world cultures which looks at the roots of western civilization and at selected cultures of the world.

Mathematics at Hoover offers the best possible course in preparation for future years. The curriculum offers shop math, business arithmetic, general math, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and senior math.

In the freshman year students take algebra or general math to prepare for courses in geometry and math of a higher level. The sophomore year offers plane and solid geometry and leads into the second level of algebra for the junior year. The senior year deals with trigonometry, college algebra and a course in senior math.

In addition to the regular math courses, junior and senior classes are taught to use a computer. This is used to introduce students to the basics of the computer and its uses.

SCIENCE IS TRUTH

A four-year course in science is available as part of Hoover's curriculum. Some of the courses offered are general science, earth science, biology, chemistry, and physics.

Students are aided by experiments, slides, movies, and demonstrations. The science laboratories enable students to better understand the lectures by actually working with the live and preserved materials.

Every year science students have the opportunity to construct and develop their own experiments for the Spring Fair.

SPIRITS GIVEN LIFT

The music program of Hoover offers many varied courses so that most students are able to participate in the activity in which they are interested. The vocal section consists of the Acapella Choir, Junior and Senior Girls' Glee, Sophomore Mixed Choir, Sophomore Girls' Glee, Freshman Girls' Glee, and the Freshman Mixed Chorus. Also offered under the supervision of the vocal music department is Music Theory. The Marching Band, the Concert Band, the Cadet Band, and the Orchestra are Hoover instrumental activities. The Dance Band and small ensembles allow students to pursue their interest in a more relaxed atmosphere.

CREATIVITY IS INFLUENCED IN ART CLASS

The goal of the Hoover art program is to develop the student's appreciation for the world around him. In his first two years, the student is exposed to the many different media available in art. In Art III, the more specific areas of art are studied. When the student reaches his fourth year of art, he is allowed to work on various subjects at his own discretion. Besides learning in art classes, the student gains experience through his work around the school. Art students this year displayed portraits of Hoover sports participants, beautified the lobby at Christmas time, and played a vital role in decorating the gym for the prom.

PRACTICE GAINED IN HOME EC.

In Hoover's home economics curriculum, girls prepare to become skillful and creative homemakers. The essentials of home economics, cooking and sewing are studied in the freshman and sophomore years. The students learn to make simple articles of clothing, and they discover the basic ideas that aid them in the preparation of meals. The third year of "home ec" is concerned with home management, interior decorating, home nursing, and the various home economic vocations. There is no prerequisite for Home Economics III or for Home Economics IV. This last year of home economics centers around films. Marriage and family living, consumer buying, cake decorating, and child care are the subjects for study. It is anticipated that the girls will soon become wives and mothers, and the courses are offered so that the girls can learn the things that are vital to a happy marriage.

In sewing class, this student's problem is quickly solved with the aid of Mrs. Mosher.

These two girls eagerly examine the fruit of their labors.

Two intensive office programs and an assortment of individual courses make up the Hoover High business program. The clerical program, which emphasizes machines and bookkeeping, offers economics, business law, bookkeeping, filing, machines, business arithmetic, business English, typing, and automation. With the stress on shorthand and transcription, the secretarial program has filing, typing, production typing, business English, automation, transcription, machines, and shorthand. Also in the business program are Typing I, personal typing, bookkeeping, and recordkeeping. These courses are designed to give the student who does not necessarily plan to enter a business field a sound background for his future needs.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS TEACHES USEFUL SKILL

A wide and varied subject offering attracts many of Hoover's boys to industrial arts courses. Metal and machine shop, woodworking, mechanical drawing, graphic arts, electricity, and power mechanics are the courses available. In the ninth and tenth grades, students deal with introductory and exploratory ideas in these fields. As juniors and seniors, they are able to continue study in specialized courses. Industrial arts students put their skills into practice throughout our school system. They build and repair school equipment and print schedules and programs for special events.

The Hoover High physical education program, in which mostly freshmen and sophomores participate, attempts to introduce students to a wide range of games and sports while keeping them physically fit. Freshmen and sophomore girls learn the fundamentals of volleyball, the trampoline, self-defense, bowling, folk and modern dancing, track, and a variety of team sports. Boys play baseball, basketball, and football, and they learn to wrestle. Students also take health during their freshman year. In health class, the basics of personal hygiene, personality studies, and tips for staying in good health are discussed.

SENIORS SHOW QUALITY OF LEADERSHIP

When the seniors entered Hoover for the first time as freshmen, they had no idea of what was in store for them. Since then, they have matured in their hearts, minds, and ideas. The class can look with pride at its many talented athletes, musicians, and scholars who have contributed so much to the total student body. They are to be respected for their efforts.

The class of '70 anticipates the future which is always a challenge for young, bright minds. Yet they regret their departure from Hoover, for they are leaving behind many friends among the faculty whose guidance and instruction have molded them into fine citizens.

The final tally reported that the seniors had selected Bernie Whitman, vice-president; Pat Ellsworth, secretary; Bob Bower, president; Jennifer Herdlicka, historian; and Jeff McDonald, treasurer.

CLASS OFFICERS INDICATE JUNIOR SPIRIT

The class of 1971 looks back to past accomplishments with pride and appreciation. Our class has proved itself both capable and responsible in its willingness to work with others. We have excelled in all fields, including scholastics, athletics, and music.

We extend our appreciation to both the faculty and our Junior class advisors for all the gracious help they gave us in our times of need. We look forward to our Senior year with great expectations and hope for continued success as we have achieved in our past years at Hoover.

This year's sophomore class entered their second year at Hoover High School with as much enthusiasm and ambition as they did their freshman year, making it as enjoyable as their freshman year had been.

Many sophomores excelled in all of the aspects of scholastic achievements, with approximately 33% of the students having a B average or better, in athletics, with the all-sophomore reserve basketball team, and in music, with the Sophomore Mixed Chorus. They have tried to uphold the standards set by the upper-classmen.

As sophomores they have advanced their knowledge in many fields, especially the areas of biology, home economics, and geometry. The 1969-1970 year has brought them new and rewarding experiences that will never be forgotten.

Leading the sophomore class this year were Barb Mackall, historian; Randy Blasier, vice-president; Mike Coyle, president; Karen Holdren, treasurer; Jeff McLinden, secretary.

FROSH ELECT CLASS REPRESENTATIVES

This year Hoover opened its doors to many new and smiling faces. To many freshmen this was an exciting experience, never to happen again. As we looked around, we saw what a wonderful school Hoover High was.

The freshman class is willing to uphold the outstanding reputation former students have left behind. Already we have excelled in athletics, music, and educational activities. We hope to gain the confidence and poise the other upperclassmen possess, and we hope that we have gained the recognition of all the teachers here at Hoover. Slowly we have grown accustomed to the problems of high school life and tackled them to the best of our ability. Although it took time and effort, it was well worth the energy. We hope to do as well next year and make sure the next freshman class leaves with the same feeling we have. We thank the school administration for its wonderful help and guidance throughout the school year. We look forward to our next three years at Hoover.

This year the freshman class selected able and diligent officers to lead them in their activities. They were John Mallard, president; Tom Stock, vice-president; Debbie Staley, secretary; Missie Perdue, class historian; and Sam Williams, treasurer.

Hoover's Scholarship teams have brought the school much honor in the past, and this year's group of outstanding students has upheld the tradition. In most subjects, a "pre-preliminary" test is given to narrow the class down to the ten eligible for the preliminary test. After these ten have taken the qualifying test, the top four students are determined. They then take the scholarship test and are rated on a state-wide scale.

National Merit Scholarship tests are conducted throughout the country. The 15,000 Semifinalists are chosen by a test taken during the Junior year. These students then file forms, hoping to become finalists and eligible for the college scholarships offered.

IDEAS ARE SHARED

To be an exchange student is a very high honor—the Rotary only picks the very best applicants because these people must represent their homeland to others. There are applications, letters of recommendation, and interviews to go through. But if a student does qualify, the rewards awaiting him are many. The experience of living in a foreign land as one of the people and not as a tourist is just the beginning.

Presently in foreign countries as representatives of our community are Vicki Thomas, in Sweden; Cindy Sterling, in Mexico; and Mark Samblanet, in Brazil.

STUDENTS SEE POLITICS IN ACTION

The Girls' State representatives participated in a "governmental lab" from June 14 to June 17. The girls selected to go to Columbus were sponsored by the American Legion and the Junior and Senior Women's Clubs. While there, they were elected or appointed to such offices as representatives of the House and city attorney.

Boys' State was conducted in Athens, Ohio. The American Legion and the Rotary were the sponsors for these outstanding boys, who made a good showing by becoming a city councilman and a clerk of Court of Appeals.

The experience was very rewarding.

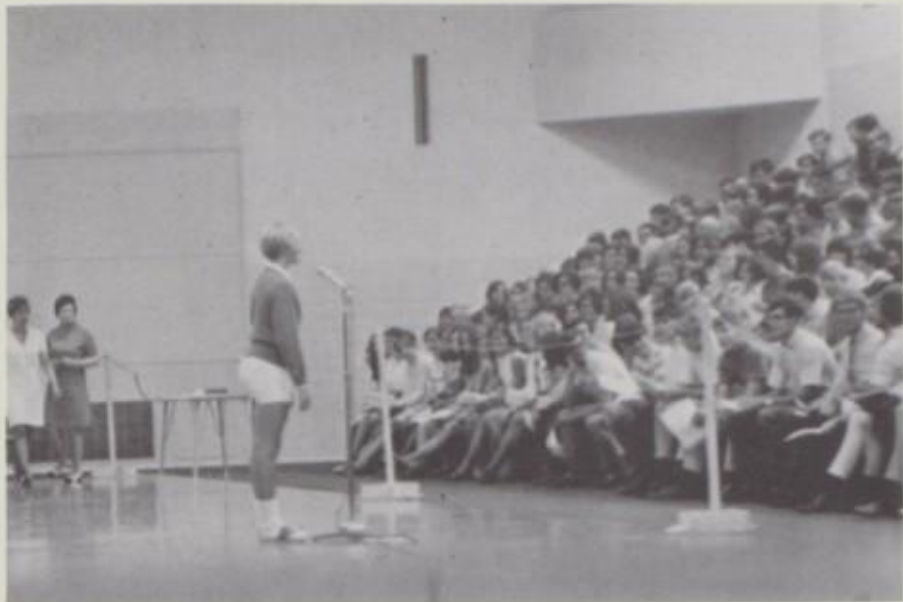

The Exchange Students were Raul Bartolucci, Argentina; Jennifer Zimmerman, South Africa; Teresa Guerra, Brazil; and Jan Thorelius, Sweden.

Cathy Kolp, Keith Ritchie, Nadyne Slayman, Charles Shuster, and Beth Perdue were our 1969 Boys' and Girls' State representatives.

During Freshman orientation, conducted annually by the Honor Society, the incoming students follow their schedules and hear speeches about the school.

HOOVER NHS TAPS CANDIDATES

The National Honor Society has chapters in every state and in many countries abroad that have American schools. This year forty-nine new members were inducted during an assembly at which the old members escorted the pledges to the stage where they received candles, pins, and programs. Randy Geib, president, conducted the ceremony for which Ted Honold, vice-president; Faith Weston, secretary-treasurer; Charles Schuster, Peggy Large, and Kathy Cross spoke on the Honor Society's ideals: Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service. The main speaker was Thaddeus Garrett, who is very active in the "new politics."

JOURNALISTS RECOGNIZED

Quill and Scroll is the International Honorary Society for High School Journalists, and to be eligible, a student must pass four tests: be in the upper third of his class scholastically; have done distinctive work in high school journalism; be recommended by the advisor of journalism or publications; and be approved by the society's executive officer. This year, twenty-one Hoover students from the annual and newspaper qualified.

NFL PROVES REWARDING

The National Forensic League gives its members the opportunity to participate in inter-school debates and individual competition. Both the "A" and the "B" debate teams had very successful seasons: the "A" team had a 6-0 record; the "B" team, 5-1. At the Euclid Invitational, which was the season's high point, the varsity "A" team tied for first place and took second, and the "B" team received the first place honor. This year's debate topic was "Resolved: That Congress Should Prohibit United States' Unilateral Military Intervention in Foreign Countries."

In individual competition Dawn Slayman gave a dramatic interpretation and Jeff Gillman, a humorous one. Nadine Slaymen and Jean Kabala delivered original oratories, and Dave Skibbens and James Raymond participated in extemporaneous speaking.

ACTING SKILLS PERFECTED

The Thespian Society offers students an opportunity to learn the techniques of dramatic acting. Other aspects of dramatics, such as costuming, make-up, and scenery are also learned through the actual experience of producing a play. Hoover Thespians gained their experience from successfully presenting the plays Seventeen Is Terrific and Our Town under the advisoryship of Mrs. Hope Marquardt. To become a Thespian a certain number of points must be earned by participating in dramatic events.

(Left) Mrs. Marquardt readies Ben Weston for his role in Seventeen Is Terrific. (Below- In a jealous rage, Ben Weston gives Kerry Keyes a pop in the jaw while Kathy Fitz tries to stop the argument. These three Thespians were part of the cast of Seventeen Is Terrific.

They learn about new mathematical concepts and the practical application of them to modern science and industry. Included in their activities throughout the year were guest speakers from neighboring high schools and colleges and the annual picnic in the spring. The high point of the year was a tour of the NASA Lewis Research Center in Cleveland.

The French Club offers students a knowledge of the life and society in France. Because it breaks away from the routine of classwork, the French Club cultivates an interest in the cultural aspects of France. Included in their many programs throughout the year were an initiation, Christmas caroling at homes for the aged, and a talk given by an exchange student. They also invited the French Club from a neighboring school to a skating party, and wrote a Christmas letter to a Vietnam serviceman. Highlighting the year were the annual French Banquet and a Mardi Gras.

Preparing interesting meetings throughout the year were club officers Faith Weston, president; Jeff Lotz, vice-president; and Bridget O'Loughlin, secretary-treasurer. Advisor to the group was Mr. Spaulding.

ROMAN CULTURE REVIVED

The Latin Club gives students an opportunity to maintain an interest in the social and cultural aspects of ancient Rome. This year the Latin Club held a constitutional convention to amend the charter and make a provision for especially deserving members to receive a lifetime membership in the club. Highlighting the year was the annual spring banquet at which the members dressed in authentic Roman apparel and were served the traditional Roman foods. Also included in the festivities was a slave auction.

Interesting programs were planned by this year's Latin Club officers. They were Keith Ritchie, president; Bob Kolarik, vice-president; Jody Hill, secretary; and Debby Define, treasurer.

Students gain knowledge of their language and have fun during monthly meetings of the German Club. Under the guidance of Mrs. Mary Ream, the German Club, or Der Deutschverein, explores the culture of the German people through informative yet enjoyable programs and activities.

Because the culture of Germany is so much enriched by her many famous composers, this year the club placed a special emphasis on music. One meeting consisted entirely of German songs and poems played, sung, or recited by the club members.

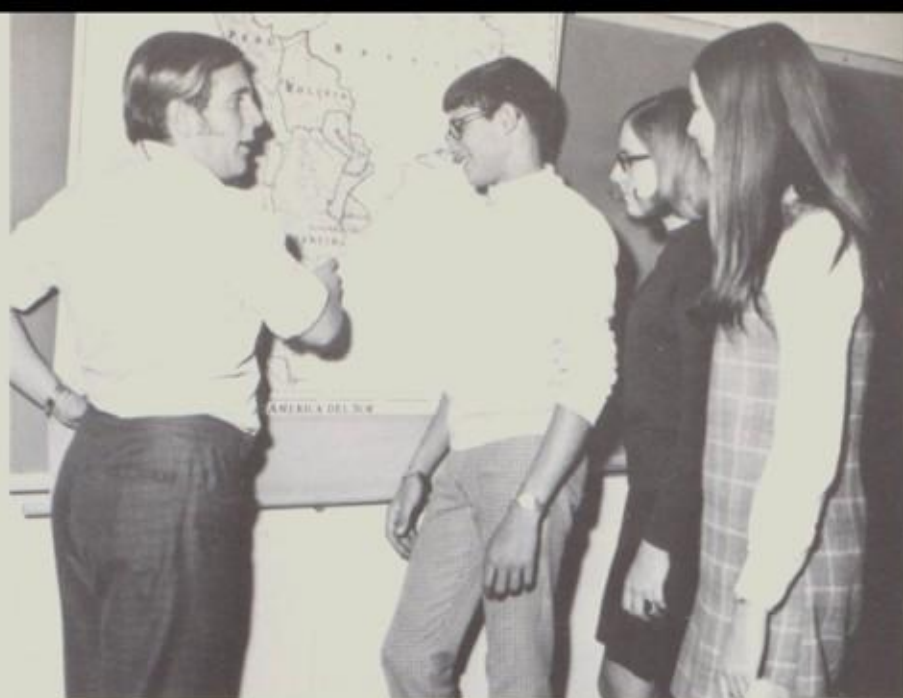

Other activities included hearing one of our exchange students speak about his native land, the traditional Christmas caroling party, and the May picnic.

Interesting programs were planned by the officers of the German Club. They were Sally Andrews, president; Steve Mason, vice-president; and Sue Peters, secretary-treasurer.

BILINGUALS UNITE

"La Tertulia," one of the new clubs at Hoover involves all students interested in the culture, people and language of the Spanish world. Films, slides and speakers, often from Hoover's South American exchange students, fill the agenda of the monthly meetings. Highlights of the club's activities are the spring fiesta and the traditional breaking of the pinata.

The club visits hospitals and sees the different career opportunities available to them. During the year the club took field trips, listened to speakers, and accomplished several projects which were helpful to the community.

ASSISTANCE GIVEN

Even though it has fewer members than most of the organizations at Hoover High, the Junior Red Cross Club is one of the most active. At Christmas the club conducted a Toys for Tots campaign and sent a recording made at Hoover High to alumni serving in the armed forces. They also sponsored a number of volunteers who helped at St. Luke's Home for the Aged. The Red Cross Club continually makes worthwhile contributions to the school and the community. Members give of themselves, their time, and energy to make life easier for those who are in need of comfort and companionship.

HOME EC. TEACHES HOUSEHOLD ARTS

Home Economics Club offers girls a chance to become better acquainted with the field of Home Economics than they normally would in a classroom. Throughout the year various speakers were heard by the club members. These speakers discuss the particular field of Home Economics they specialize in. Included in this group of speakers was a seamstress who has her own television show. Home Economics Club also has service projects to benefit the community. This year they bought clothes and toys for underprivileged children at Christmas. Climaxing the year and bringing it to a close was the annual Mother-Daughter covered dish banquet. Nancy Craven the president and Mrs. Artzner the advisor led the club through a successful year.

SCIENCE STRESSED

The Biology Club hopes to stimulate and encourage those students who may be thinking of science as a career. Biology Club also offers a chance for more extensive experimentation than one can attempt during the regular limited class time. Activities this year included a field trip to Cleveland, a movie on cancer research, and various dissections.

The advisor to the Biology Club was Mr. Berrodin. Organizing the club's programs for the year were Mike Mohler, president; Marty Venables, vice-president; and John White, secretary.

The Girl's Activities Association provides an opportunity for girls to participate in sports that cannot be offered in the regular physical education classes. GAA also instills good leadership qualities in its members. Among the activities of the GAA were a bike hike to McKinley Monument and an evening of snow skiing. Special events were the Orange-Black Basketball Game, Dad-Daughter Date Night, and a Mother-Daughter Banquet.

Interests of GAA members include music as well as sports. Here several girls demonstrate their ability on guitars.

GAA OFFERS VARIOUS GROUP ACTIVITIES

The Print Club offers interested Graphic Arts students more practical experience in printing than can be gained during regular class time. To gain additional experience the members print different projects. Profits from the various jobs help to purchase equipment for both the club and Graphic Arts classes. The Print Club also participates in the annual Spring Fair. They display their different projects that they have worked on during the year.

Members of the Print Club put the finishing touches on one of the projects they have made. Profits from these projects help to purchase new Graphic Arts equipment for both the club and Graphic Arts classes.

Preparing the machine is only the first step in printing. Many other steps must be taken before the finished product is completed.

MASTERS CREATED

In March of 1968 an Art Club was organized for the students of Hoover High with the purpose of providing an outlet for students to experiment and do art work outside of classes. This year meetings were held once a month. Mr. Palmer and Miss Negulici were the advisors.

Seventy-five students signed up to join. Included were students who did not even take art. Projects were quite successful. They included making glass flower arrangements and selling them. They also made posters and did advertising for other clubs in the school. The Art Club has a big display in the annual Spring Fair too.

With the money earned from projects, several field trips were taken to various Art Shows and Art Museums. At the end of the year a banquet was also held.

The Art Club officers for 1969-1970 were Patti White, secretary; Mary Ann O'Loughlin, vice-president; and Jill Cox, president.

STUDENT AID APPRECIATED

Indispensible to the smoothly efficient running of our school are the office aides. Every period, they assist in the various offices — main, guidance, and attendance — by filing, answering telephones, carrying messages, and performing the other minor secretarial services so that the secretaries are free to attend to their other duties.

Every day the diligent hall monitors are plagued by students who want hall passes.

LIBRARIANS FIND BOOKS

The librarians are helped in their duties by the student librarians who perform a great variety and number of tasks. Included in these are taking charge of the circulation desk, maintaining the vertical file, and shelving the returned books. They also keep the shelves in order by periodically "reading" and scrubbing them.

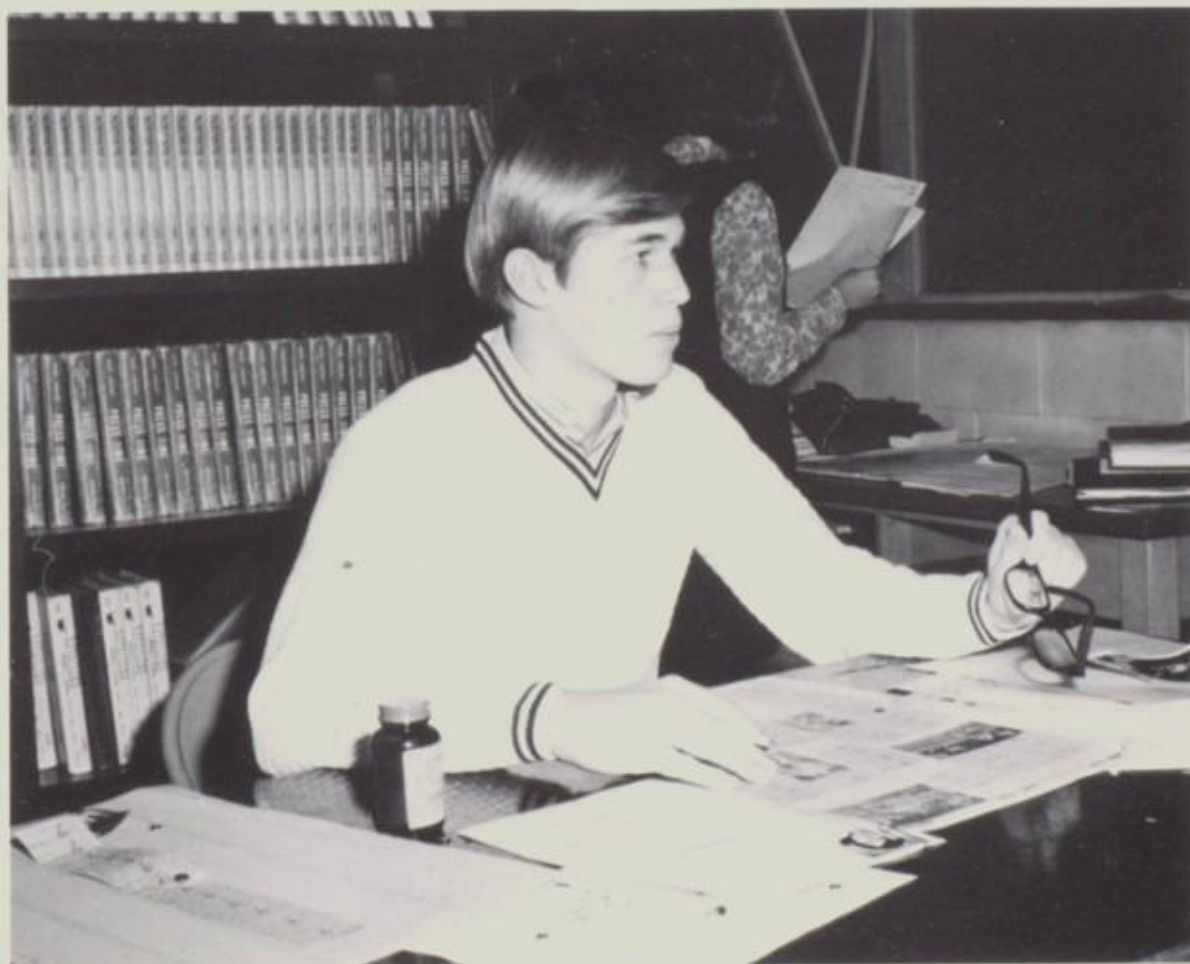

Advisor Mr. Mazzarella and co-editor Jon Baker made many decisions concerning the subject matter of the newspaper to make the Viking Views a successful publication.

VIEWS INFORMS STUDENTS

Our school's newspaper, the Viking Views, serves two very important purposes at Hoover High. It keeps the student body informed of school events and activities, and it also gives journalism students experience in the writing, compiling, and printing of a newspaper. Under the guidance of the journalism instructor, Mr. Mazzarella, the editors, page editors, reporters, photographers, and business section work hard to successfully assemble the newspaper and have it in by the deadline. The Viking Views is distributed monthly to the student body.

Handling the business affairs of the newspaper this year were Terri Killian and Claudia Frymire.

The hardworking co-editors for the first semester were Jon Baker and Debbie Bishop. Here Jon takes a break from checking the format of the next paper, while Debbie proofreads.

Chris Fromm studies the galley proof for the next issue of the newspaper.

SCHOOL'S SPIRIT IS BOOSTED BY CLUB

Many friendships are bonded and much hilarity is forthcoming at such Booster Club events as the annual wiener roast.

The executives of the Booster Club, Hoover's largest organization, were John Dannemiller, Jill Bendle, Randy Geib, and Becky Hertler.

To promote school spirit and to provide different services for both the school and the community were two goals set by the Booster Club officers this year. To accomplish their first goal they sold pep tags, held a door decorating contest, and sponsored the annual Homecoming wiener roast. Providing refreshments for the cheerleaders at half time of the football games, paying for the emblem of the Viking head in the center of the football field, keeping the school activity sign up to date, and selling programs at basketball games were a few of the ways they accomplished their goal of service. One social event looked forward to by all the members is the annual Turnabout Dance, where the girls have to ask the boys. Every year a particular theme is chosen and everyone who comes to the dance has to dress accordingly. Prizes are given for the best costumes.

Booster Club is the largest club in the school with 550 members. Because of its large size the Booster Club has also helped the school as a whole to become more united. Through its various projects members have been able to work together to accomplish large tasks that a smaller organization could not have accomplished. Booster Club has also given members of different classes a chance to become better acquainted. However, Booster Club could not have accomplished all that it has this year without its competent officers and advisor. Leading the club were Randy Geib, boys' president; and Jill Bendle girls' president. Aiding them were John Dannemiller, vice-president, and Becky Hertler, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Kenneth Martz spent a great deal of his own time in advising the club and chaperoning activities.

New exchange student, Belinda Simpson, gets some first hand experience in "American" culture as she enjoys herself at a Booster Club sponsored event, the Turnabout.

STUDENTS' REPRESENTATIVES SPEAK OUT

Student Council officers for the 1969 year were Kerry Keyes, vice-president; Ted Honold, president; Debbie Morabito, secretary; and Andrea Bozeka, treasurer.

Student Council, the school's governing body, helped to promote better relationships between the student body and the administration. Members of the Student Council were elected by their respective homerooms on the basis that each member should do a fine job of representation.

Different activities of the Student Council included sponsoring the Homecoming activities, selecting and planning assemblies, and participating in a student exchange program with Louisville High School. They also supervised the election of cheerleaders.

Leading the Student Council was senior Ted Honold who presided over the meetings and introduced the various acts and speakers at the assemblies. Advising the Student Council was Mr. Donald C. LaHue, the assistant principal. Other officers were Kerry Keyes, vice-president; Debbie Morabito, secretary; and Andrea Bozeka, treasurer.

QUEEN, COURT HIGHLIGHT HOMECOMING

Peppy Lindsay Cullen, the Senior attendant, hopes for a victory.

Connie Cutshaw was elected by the Junior class as their attendant.

Beginning with a pep rally on Friday afternoon, the excitement of the 1969 Homecoming had begun. A victory march to the stadium preceded the game. The highlight of Friday night was the crowning of Gabie Starcher as the 1969 Homecoming Queen. She was crowned at pre-game ceremonies by the 1968 Homecoming Queen, Miss Karen Naughtrip. Then, the queen and her court sat back to cheer their Viking team on to a 39-0 victory over the Glenwood Eagles.

On Saturday night the Homecoming weekend was climaxed by a Homecoming Victory Dance in the school gym. The theme of the dance was "Homecoming on the Moon."

YOUNG LANCELOTS ESCORT MAIDENS TO

Chivalry once again prevailed as Camelot and King Arthur's Court was re-created. The theme came to life as the hard-working Junior class decorated and transformed the gym to emphasize the mood. Couples entered the magnificent ballroom over the drawbridge. Queen Denise, who was crowned by Junior Class president Ted Honold, reigned over the medieval castle from her majestic throne. Scribes and pages waited on the guests, serving refreshments and taking coats.

The After-Prom, which was held at the Jewish Center, was sponsored by the Junior parents. The Hopson's Choice was the center of attraction, but everyone made full use of the center's many facilities. The traditional Sunday picnic concluded the all-too-short weekend, which left each person with unforgettable memories of "Camelot."

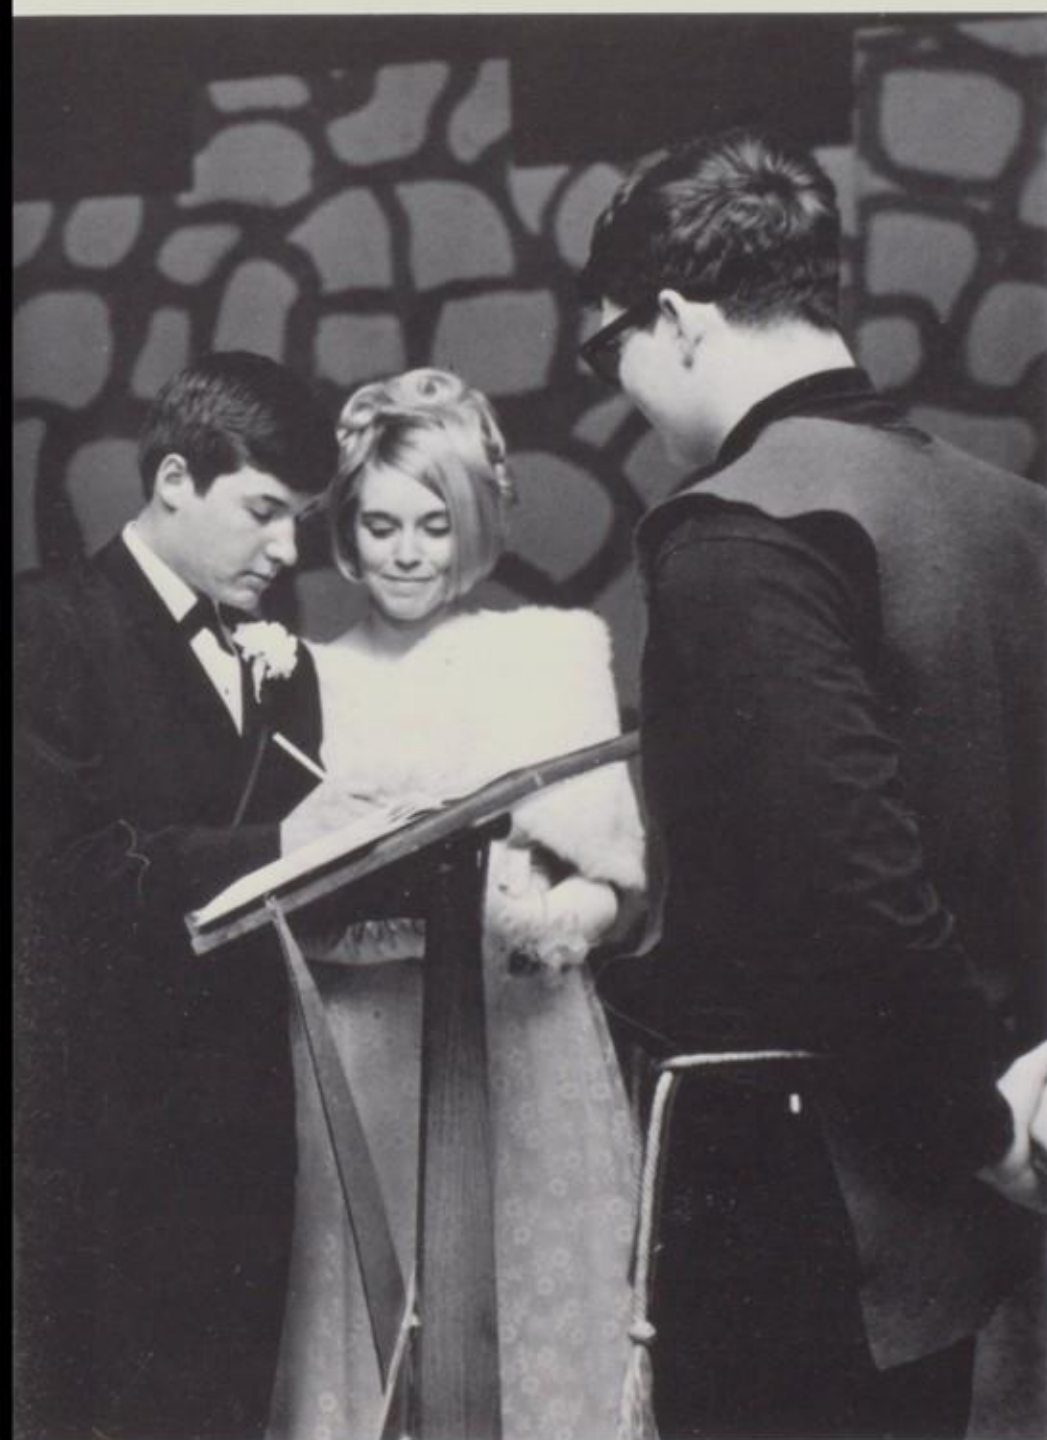

The 1969 Prom Court and escorts were: Lynda Petros, Junior, escorted by David Eck; Cindy Pool, Senior, escorted by Sheldon Youtz; Denise Crites, Queen, escorted by Bill Parker; Judith Edmondson, Senior, escorted by Jim Palmieri; and Nancy Cantini, Junior, escorted by Bruce Acer.

DREAMLAND OF CAMELOT

The Junior-Senior Prom, the big formal dance, is always very popular — couples wait in line outside of the entrance.

Coming in from the cold, the couples were transported back into a medieval courtyard where they entered their names into the guestbook.

Queen Denise was crowned during intermission by Junior Class president Ted Honold. The guestbook was presented to her following the dance.

SOVEREIGNS RULE

The Band Prom '69 is one never to be forgotten by the people who attended it. From the preparations of decorations to the final cleanup, the students expressed their ingenuity and talents. The highlight of the night was the hundreds of colorful balloons scattered about the floor. In the background the blacklighted mosques added to the Far East atmosphere. Reigning over the prom from the Sheik's Palace on the stage were King Michael Howard and Queen Carol Reeder. The attendants to the fair queen and their escorts were chosen by the various classes.

The Queen of the Band Prom, Carol Reeder, reigned with majesty over her enchanted Eastern empire.

Dancing amidst the multi-colored balloons is the King, Queen, and court in the traditional Queen's dance, accompanied by the pop of balloons.

The 1969 Track Queens Kris Miller, Senior; Marcia Miller, Junior; Mary Jo Spencer, Sophomore; and Karen Holdren, Freshman; reigned over the spring track event at Memorial Stadium. The rain did not dampen the girls spirit as they cheered for their team. Trophies were presented by the queens to the winners in the competitive track events.

Elected by the 1969 Track Team as their queens were Karen Holdren, Mary Jo Spencer, Kris Miller, and Marcia Miller.

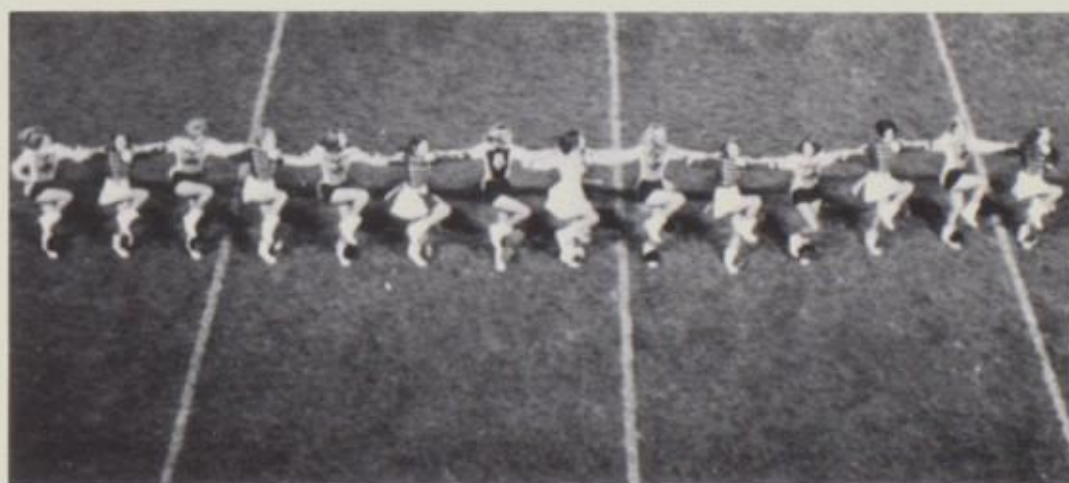

The Spring Sing Court is Connie Cutshaw, Judi Virsack, Jenny Zimmerman, Queen, Diane Van Valkenburg, Jo Anne Sturiale, and Jill DuPont.

The theme for the annual Spring Sing, "How the West Was Won," was carried over to the dance following the program. Imagine oneself in an old western dance hall — that was the setting for the evening's activities. The Queen of the West was Diane VanValkenburg, as pretty as a western sunset! Her attendants were selected from the different choral groups. Jill DuPont and Jenny Zimmerman represented the choir; Judi Virsack and Connie Cutshaw, Girls' Glee Club; and JoAnne Sturiale, the Freshman group.

A'CAPELLA CHOIR ENTERTAINS MUSICALLY

The A'Cappella Choir is at the top of the list for aspiring, young freshmen interested in voice. This year the Choir attempted Japanese theatre-in-the-round and was successful in the production of Gilbert and Sullivan's Mikado. At Christmas the Choir combined forces with the Girls' Glee Club and the Sophomore Mixed Chorus and ended the show with the traditional "Hallelujah Chorus." In the spring, combined with the entire Choral Department, the A'Cappella paid tribute to the first men on the moon.

Another part of the choir is the Hi-Lows. This special group of select voices represented the choir in North Canton and in surrounding areas. They sang for many groups for various occasions. Many Hi-Lows members entered the Solo and Ensemble Competition.

FRESHMEN VOICES UNITE

Just joining the ranks of the Choral Department are these eager, young freshmen. They have varied tasks to complete. While they are learning to sing, they can support the present functions of all facets of the department. They participate in the Spring Sing with the combined choirs.

Already part of "the ranks" are the girls in the Glee Club. This year these girls bought material and made their own uniforms. They displayed their costumes and talents for the Thanksgiving Assembly and then joined with the choir and the sophomores for the Christmas Program.

Showing off their new outfits, the Girls' Glee Club backs up Charlene Hudak as she sings before the Thanksgiving Assembly.

SOPHOMORES MIX MIRTH WITH MUSIC

One step away from the A'Capella Choir are the boys and girls of the Sophomore Mixed Chorus. Since they started as Freshmen, they have been increasing their skills in the music field. Next year, it will be their turn to audition for the A'Capella Choir. Their performances this year included a cheerful "note" at the annual Christmas show, and an opportunity for competition against other beginning and top choirs from all over the area in the Spring. To highlight the year, they participated with all the other choral groups in honoring the American astronauts.

The sophomores practice diligently to perfect their talents as the contest day draws closer to reality. This year they will again be in direct competition with the A'Cappella Choir.

CONTESTS INSPIRE

The trio of A. Zabinsky, L. Weeks and D. Walters get their final instructions from Miss Durato before leaving for contest.

The Brass sextet, S. Gross, J. Porter, B. Aman, K. Shanholtzer, M. Winters, and B. Radosovic, is the newest entry to the Ensemble Contest.

As the contest day draws nearer many soloists, like Cathy Kolp, practice diligently to perfect their pieces.

Representing the multiple wind ensembles is the quintet composed of D. Wolfe, A. Weeks, J. Cockerham, B. Smith, and T. Tewanger.

MUSICIANS DISPLAY TALENT IN CONCERT

The marching Band gave bright musical entertainment for the many spectators at the football games. During the half-time shows of each game, the Band combined drill routines and dance steps with flashy music. The highlight of the season was the combined show with the Glenwood Band. Hoover marchers also took part in the five-mile-long Hall of Fame Parade. At the annual Band Banquet at the end of the season, special awards such as the Tarnished Spit Valve and the Battered Drum Beater awards were given. Plaques were given to the Seniors.

When the football season ended, the Marching Band formed a Concert Band, which performed for the rest of the year. The members played from a wide repertoire for appreciative audiences. They played in two concerts and provided the music for the commencement exercises.

Flashing her familiar smile is head majorette, Sue Peters. Her famous "one more time" approach in the practices resulted in a line of perfection.

The youngest member of the squad, Laura Lafferty, added her ideas from her experiences at majorette camp to give the shows a unique touch.

Petite Debbie Domer contributed her touch of splendor and charm to the line as she performed articulately.

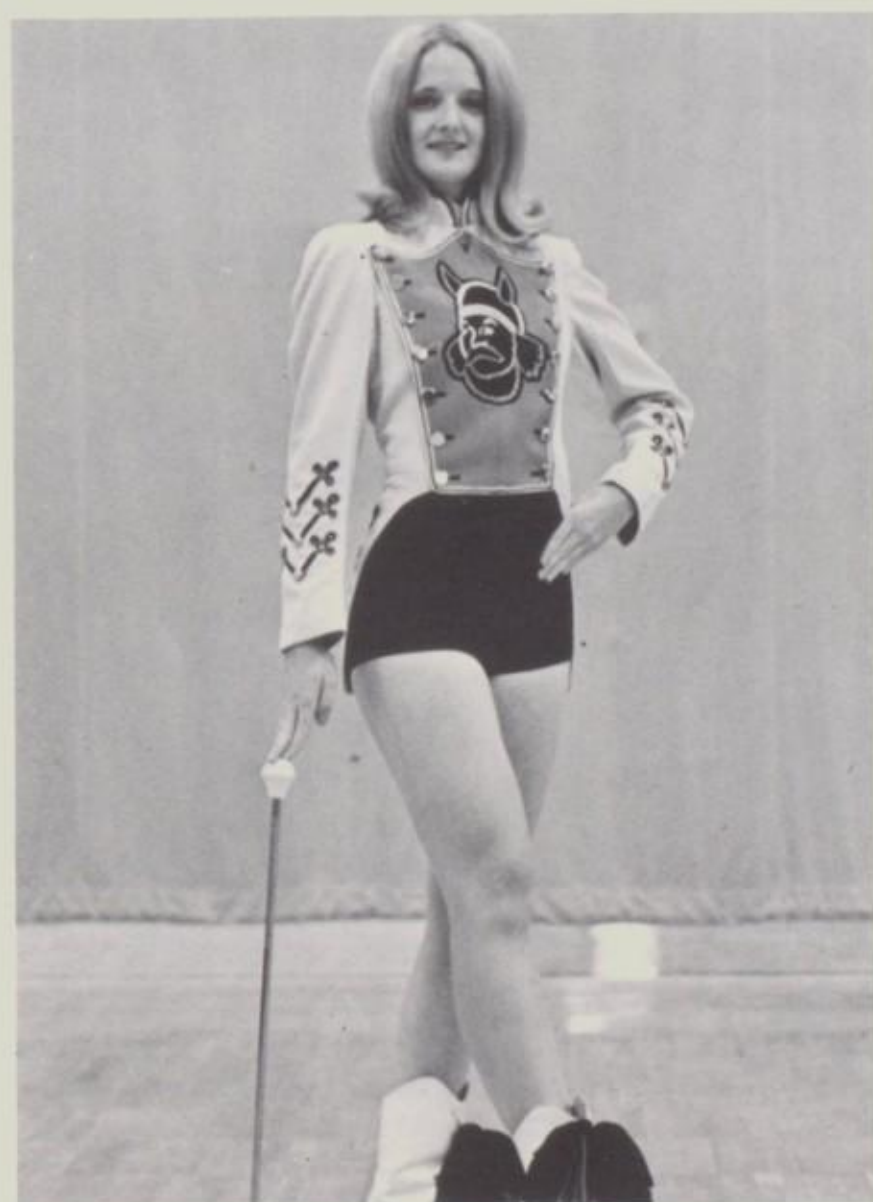

From clarinet to baton, versatile Perry Large poses as her year as a majorette draws to a close.

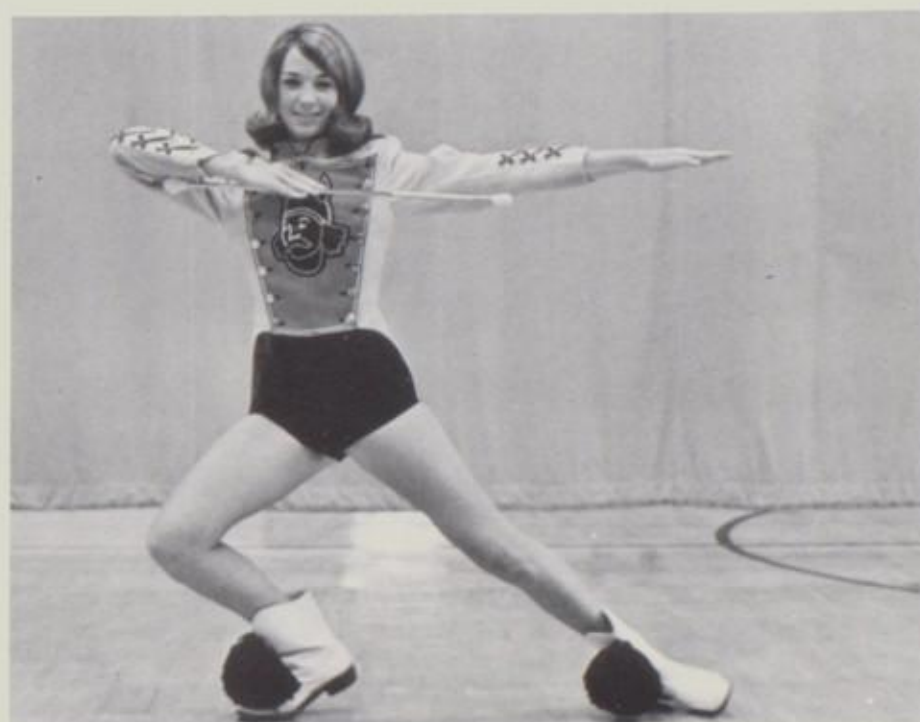

Combining talent, energy, and spirit, Faith Weston vigorously danced and twirled to the music she enjoyed most — the hits of yesterday and today.

MAJORETTES DISPLAY POISE, STYLE

Whenever the routine did not adapt to the music, Jill Geese could proficiently fill the gap with an original step or two.

Barbara Aman brightened the line with her energetic spirit and a keen sense of interest in the fields of dance, jazz, and contemporary music.

Sparkle was added to the halftime presentations as the versatile majorettes performed to a variety of tunes. The old-fashioned hat and cane routine to the Broadway hit of "Mame" was contrasted by the modern precision flag drill, "By the Time I Get to Phoenix". In addition to the entertainment at half-time, these girls performed at the pep rallies and during the basketball intermission with the help of the pep band.

The person responsible for these talented performers was head majorette, Sue Peters. Helping her with the routines were Jill Geese, Debbie Domer, Peggy Large, Barbara Aman, Faith Weston, and Laura Lafferty. The long hours of practice resulted in well-performed shows that were appreciated by all.

FROSH APPLY TECHNIQUES

The members of the Cadet Band put their talent to good use in learning many techniques and gaining experience this year. They worked hard to obtain more control over their instruments and to have successful concerts. The training they received will help them to become Senior Band members.

The members of the Dance Band worked together to perform and entertain for several area dances and events, including Hoover's Band Banquet.

SOUNDS BECOME REFINED

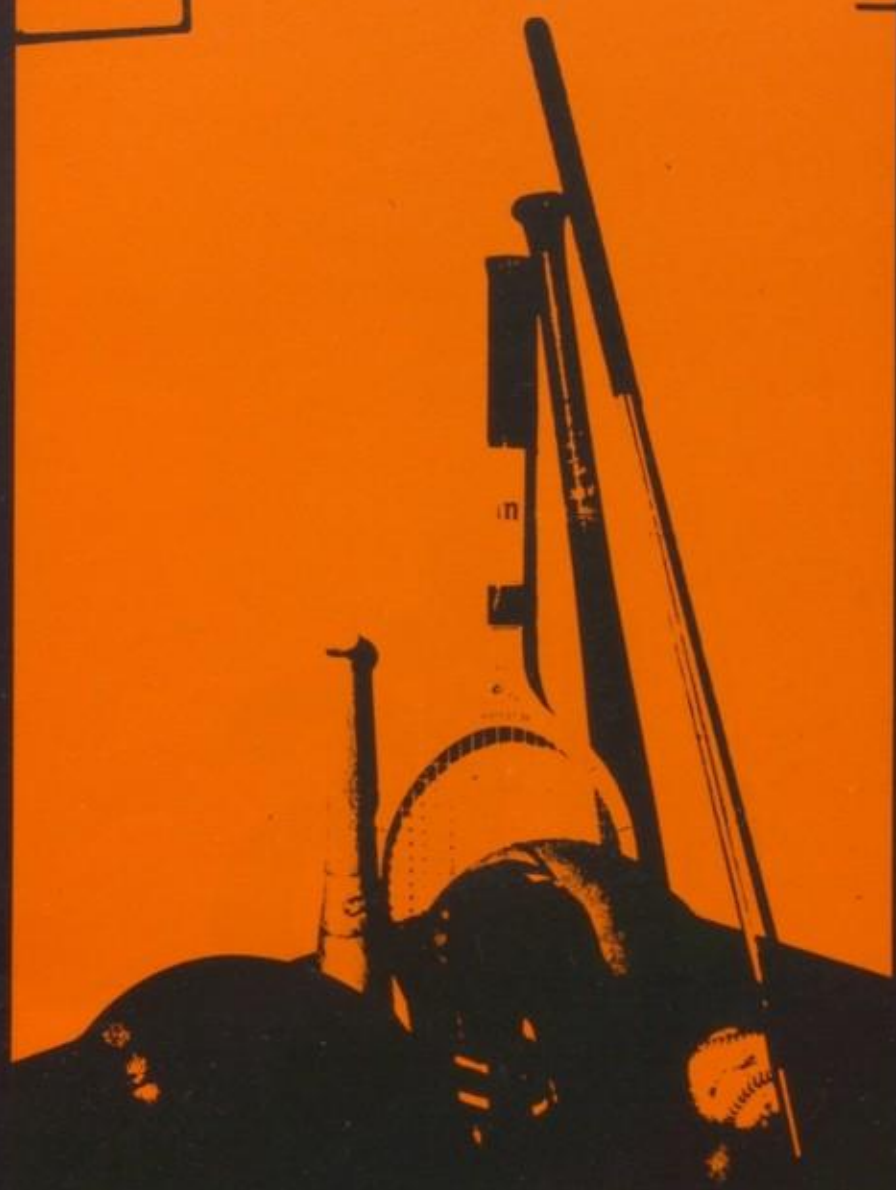

The Hoover High Orchestra has had a very successful year with much enthusiasm and work. The orchestra started off the season as it provided the accompaniment for the A'Capella Choir production of The Mikado. In one of the two concerts performed, the players put their talents and effort together with that of the members of the McKinley High School Orchestra. Miss Durato provided instruction and guidance for the strings while Mr. McCleaster directed the full orchestra. Under the direction of Miss Durato, the strings formed a quartet and a trio. This provided an opportunity for string players to become familiar with additional music literature. A wide range of musical experience was found as the orchestra progressed.

TEAMMATES TOWARD ULTIMATE SUCCESS

With the loss of size and needed depth from last year's football squad, renewal of a second consecutive Federal League championship looked dim. The season of 1969 was to be a year of rebuilding and struggling, and determination was the key factor involved. This factor proved only too true as the boys ended the season with an outstanding total of 7 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie, to place them tied for second in the League.

Each individual on the squad contributed to the team's fine success by his determination, but it was only possible for a few to be given public recognition. Scott Freday, Mark Gulling, Bill Novotny, and Dave Kuhn were honored on the All-Federal League Team while Freday and Gulling obtained positions on WHBC's All-County Team. Freday also along with Novotny placed on The Canton Repository's All-County Team. Much acknowledgement must be given to these boys.

Credit must be given to Coach Hertler and his exceptional staff for guiding the team and representing Hoover High School.

POWER IS APPLIED

Coaches Dieringer and Tolarchyk led the Reserve team to another successful season. The team compiled a 5-1-1 record.

The squad was a predominately sophomore one. Standouts of the team included junior quarterback Mike Logan, speeders Clint Alguire and Bob Cornelly. The line was characterized by the pass catching of Mike Coyle and the blocking of Dan Gill, Carl Hirschman, and Tony Fehn. Ed Trumpeter led the team in punting. The boys should add much strength to next year's varsity team.

Desire, teamwork, and a will to win are displayed in a fine offensive play by the Viking team. A touchdown is the goal for the fast-moving running back in this rushing play.

Under the direction of head coach Mr. Richard Gross and line coach Mr. William Nutt, the skillful freshman football squad had another winning season. With just one defeat the frosh warriors valiantly charged to a 6-1-0 season. The team faced many tough opponents but hard work and good leadership brought the team through in fine style.

The freshman team fought hard and learned what real teamwork was. They gained valuable experience and showed a keen ability in their first year of high school competition.

Freshmen showed fine defense holding four teams scoreless and the remaining opponents to only 30 points.

QUICK PACE IS SET

Coach John Foster led the Cross Country team to a very successful season in his first year at Hoover. The team clinched the Federal League crown by a wide margin. They also finished 4th out of 14 teams in the District meet and 3rd out of 15 teams in the Stark County meet.

MIGHTY MATMEN WRESTLE WITH VICTORY

Excitement was evident in the last wrestling match of the season against Canton South who was then first in the league. However, our matmen conquered the Wildcats by a score of 35-5. This victory placed the Vikings in a tie for first position in the Federal League.

Even though Bernie Whitman, Bill Shaub, and Dan Shaub were the only seniors returning, the team showed no lack of experience in competition. Walt Tolarchyk's fine coaching, pride and determination, plus lasting student support spelled success for the team.

Viking grappler works for hard-earned points which will lead to a Hoover victory.

VIKINGS MATCH RIVALS

FRESHMEN CONTINUE A WELL-LAID PATH

The freshmen wrestlers gained experience in competition by participating in the Summit County Freshman Championship in Akron. The following grapplers were victorious: Jeff Sweitzer, Dave Laursen, Mike Stahler, and Jack Foughty. Jeff Sweitzer, a varsity wrestler, had a 9-3 record and is an outstanding wrestler in Coach Tolarychuk's estimation.

The reserve wrestlers had a 6-2 league record and an 8-4 overall season record with Jackson, Glenwood, Huron, Kent State, and Louisville being beaten with impressive high scores. The reserves were bolstered by a great number of outstanding freshmen. Mr. John Marshall and Mr. Paul Applegate lead this year's reserve grapplers to a formidable season and helped them gain valuable experience to help our varsity squad next year. These valuable matmen have just started to learn what they must know to engage in varsity competition in their future years at Hoover. With their good coaching staff and a desire for victories, they had a winning season.

COACH KING FACES VARIED EXPERIENCES

Coach King spots inaccurate timing among his players in game action,

... shouts out new tactics and words of encouragement,

... intently watches the actions of each player maneuvering the ball,

... and from a resulting foul, awaits a successful basket.

The first three basketball games of the 1969-1970 season started off to be a repeat of the past years. It looked like a long road ahead for the squad as well as the fans. But things began to pick up as the Vikings staged their first victory with Marlinton. The remaining games proved to be exciting and successful, for the team completed a 12-6 winning season record for a second place tie in the Federal League. Hoover entered the sectional tournaments optimistically and defeated their first opponent, Marlinton, for the third time. They were then faced with Massillon whom they bowed out to with a 68-61 score. The loss was a disheartening one.

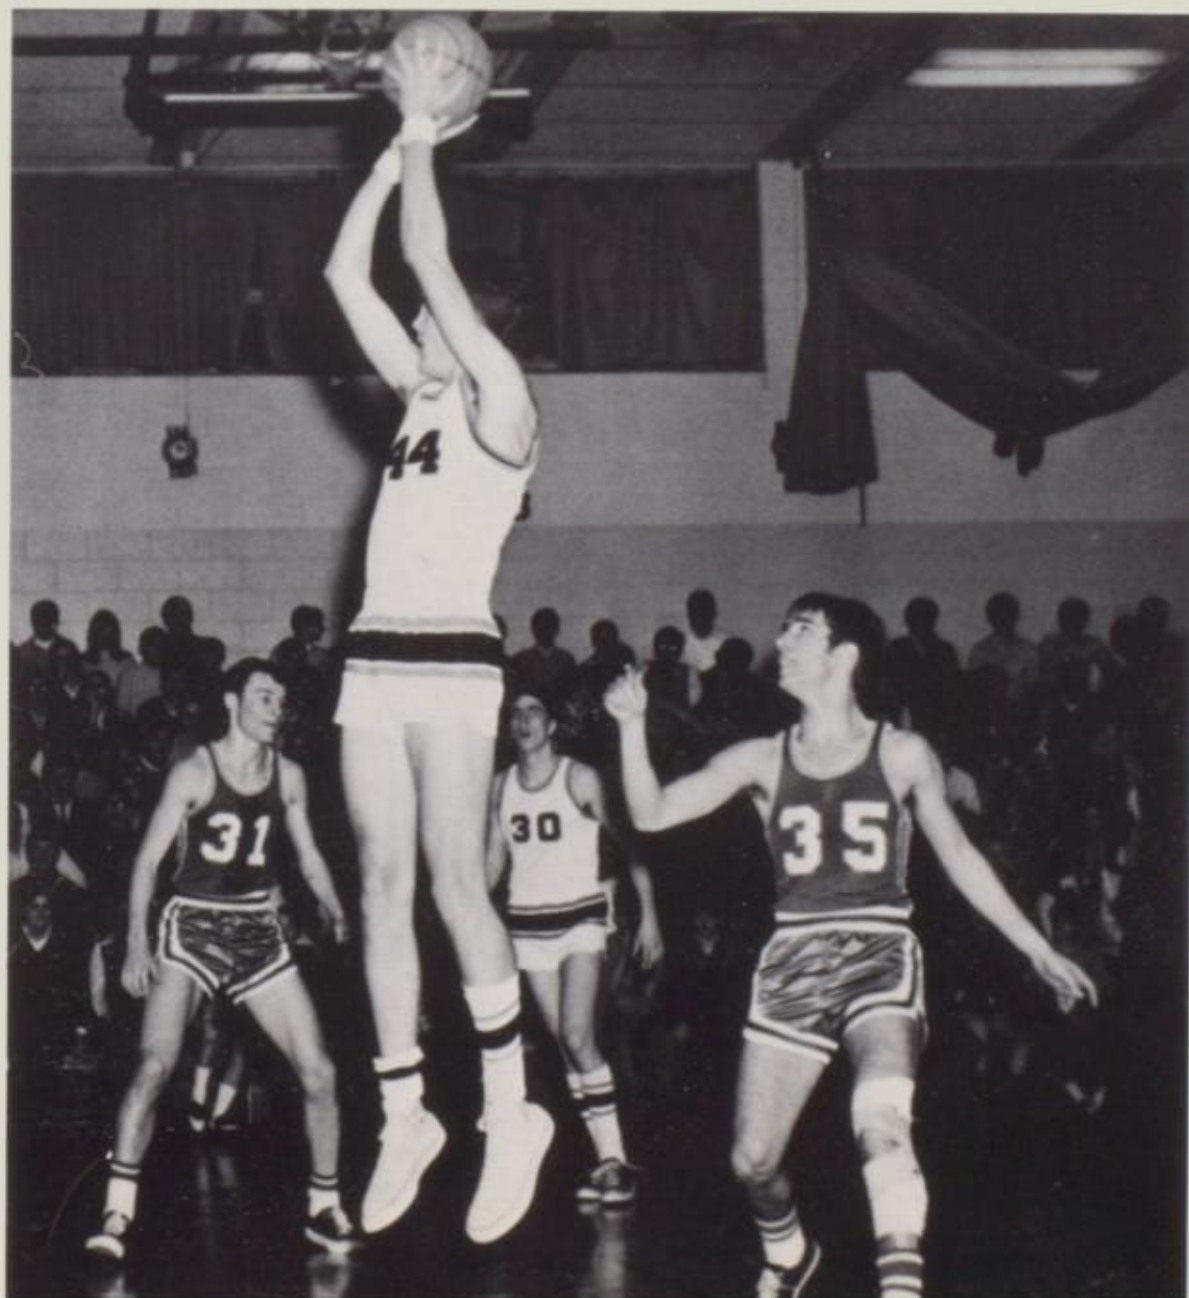

Not enough thanks can go to this team and the coaches who have finally put basketball in the race for the most exciting sport at Hoover High.

Ben Weston stretches upward in order to tip the ball in the direction of his fellow Vikings.

The Reserve Basketball team ended their season with an overall record of 14-4 and a league record of 14-3. The team was composed mainly of sophomores in order to build for future varsity competition. Jim Armstrong, Ben Weston, Dave Honold, and Dave Heggy led the team in scoring and rebounding. This year's reserves should be a great help to the Varsity squad next year.

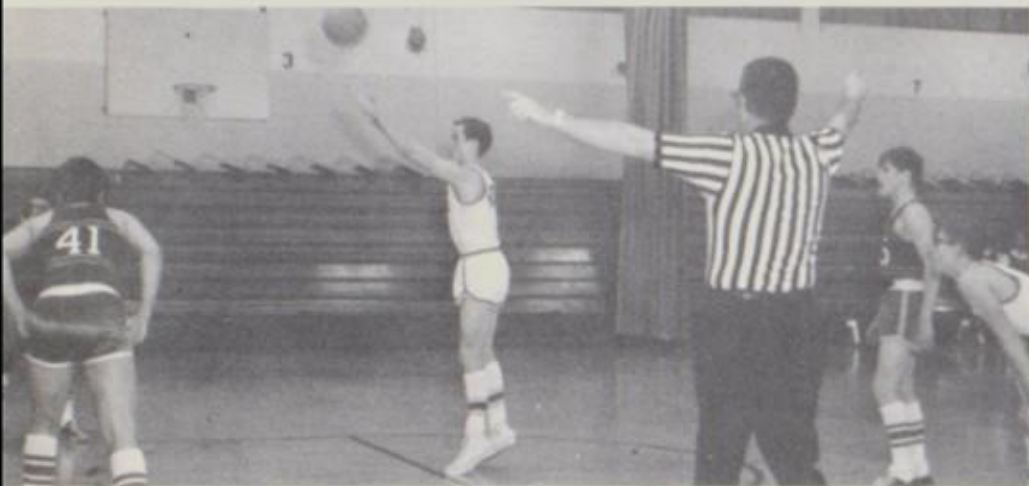

Coach Foster had high praise for the team when he said, "We were very pleased with the performance of all our boys." These basketball players have provided exciting games for the enjoyment of the Viking fans. A desire to win and able coaches helped the team to a victorious season.

FROSH SCRAMBLE FOR SUPERIOR RATING

The freshman basketball team ended a victorious season with a 9-3 record in scheduled games. The leading scorers, Mark Lukens, Bob Ward, and Tim Starrett, helped to fight off their opponents.

"This year's team has great potential," said Coach Gross. "It will be up to them to improve on some basic fundamentals if they are to become a good varsity team."

Both squads wait expectantly for the rebound as Tom Stock shoots another ball from the foul line.

GOLFERS' STROKES PAR THEIR COURSE

Under the coaching of Dick King, the golf team of 1969 accumulated a record of 6 wins and 14 losses. Although they did not have a winning season, they played with great determination and depth in matches that might have gone either way.

Spearheaded by the experienced Britt Runion and Dave DeBlander, the Viking linksmen conquered the Oakwood Raiders by a score a 6-3, which was the highlight of the golf year.

Senior Britt Runion captured the title of Most Valuable Player and Sophomore Kent Weil took the honor of the Most Improved Player.

Having lost two excellent players, the prospects for the 1970 season still look very promising with four fine re-tuning lettermen, who will carry on the team's winning spirit.

AGILE TENNIS TEAM SWINGS INTO ACTION

Tom Powell, regular doubles competitor, springs into the air as he returns the sphere forcefully.

Assuming the serving stance, Walt Ream leans far back to gain superior smashing power.

The 1969 Viking Varsity tennis team, in its third organized season, had an outstanding season with a record of 13 wins and 1 loss. The only loss of the season was suffered at the hands of a tough Lehman team, but this loss was later nullified by an impressive victory over the Polar Bears in a later match. This outstanding record was compiled as the result of diligent practice, hard work on form, and stress on strength and position.

The team, under the guidance of Coach Donald Miller, was led through the season by Most Valuable Player, Bruce Talley. Other top players returning for the 1970 season are Robert Meister and Mickey Franta. These boys scored in matches that led to Hoover's success.

Season highlights were wins over a determined Glenwood team, strong McKinley team, and skillful Jackson squad.

The Hoover High cindersmen came through their 1969 season with a record of five wins and four losses. The essential wins came over Perry, Glenwood, and Marlinton. Top runners of the season were Paul Yoder, Most Valuable Runner, and Tim McLinden. This year there were eleven underclassmen receiving letters. These tracksters have shown great strength and endurance in obtaining satisfactory achievements during the season.

CINDERMEN EXCEL

The starting line can be the most tense moment of a race. Mixed emotions run through the boys' minds as they hope the past hard work to build physical stamina will pay off.

Powerful Dave Kuhn launches a shot to the moon, well, almost! He gives the supreme effort needed.

RUNS AVERAGE TO A FINE SEASON

Again this year under Head Coach Don Hertler, the Vikings roared off to another outstanding season of 16 wins and only 6 losses. As one can see, the Vikings had an extremely strong fielding team, allowing their opponents to complete only 72 runs to Hoover's total of 124. Dale Wilson and Scott Freday both proved to be excellent pitchers with records of 4-0 and 5-2 respectively. Leading the team in batting were Mark Gulling with an average of .395 and Sheldon Youtz with .343.

Although behind the spotlight of the boys' basketball team, the girls' inter-scholastic basketball squad is a very spirited team of girls with fine abilities. Throughout the year, this team scrimmages teams from different schools around the county in games which are full of fun and excitement, and create a competitive spirit. The high point of the year for the girls is the annual Orange-Black game. This game is played between two squads comprised of Hoover girls and coached by Mrs. Nancy Minton.

Jumpers leap high in order to tip the tossed ball to their teammates who plan to break down court for a basket.

GIRLS SHOW TECHNIQUES

Girls' basketball has many enjoyable factors: lasting friendships are created while girls become physically fit.

TEAMS ARE INSPIRED BY CHEERLEADERS'

Kathie Smiley is one of the few in the history of Hoover High School to become a sophomore Varsity cheerleader.

Nancy Zingler's participation as a cheerleader contributed to the students' spirit.

Gable Starcher returns to the Varsity Squad.

Lindsay Cullen put forth a great amount of effort and determination in her cheering years at Hoover.

Cheerleading provided rewarding and memorable experiences for cheerleader Sue Holdren as she aroused Viking teams to victory.

ACTIVE AND VIGOROUS SUPPORT

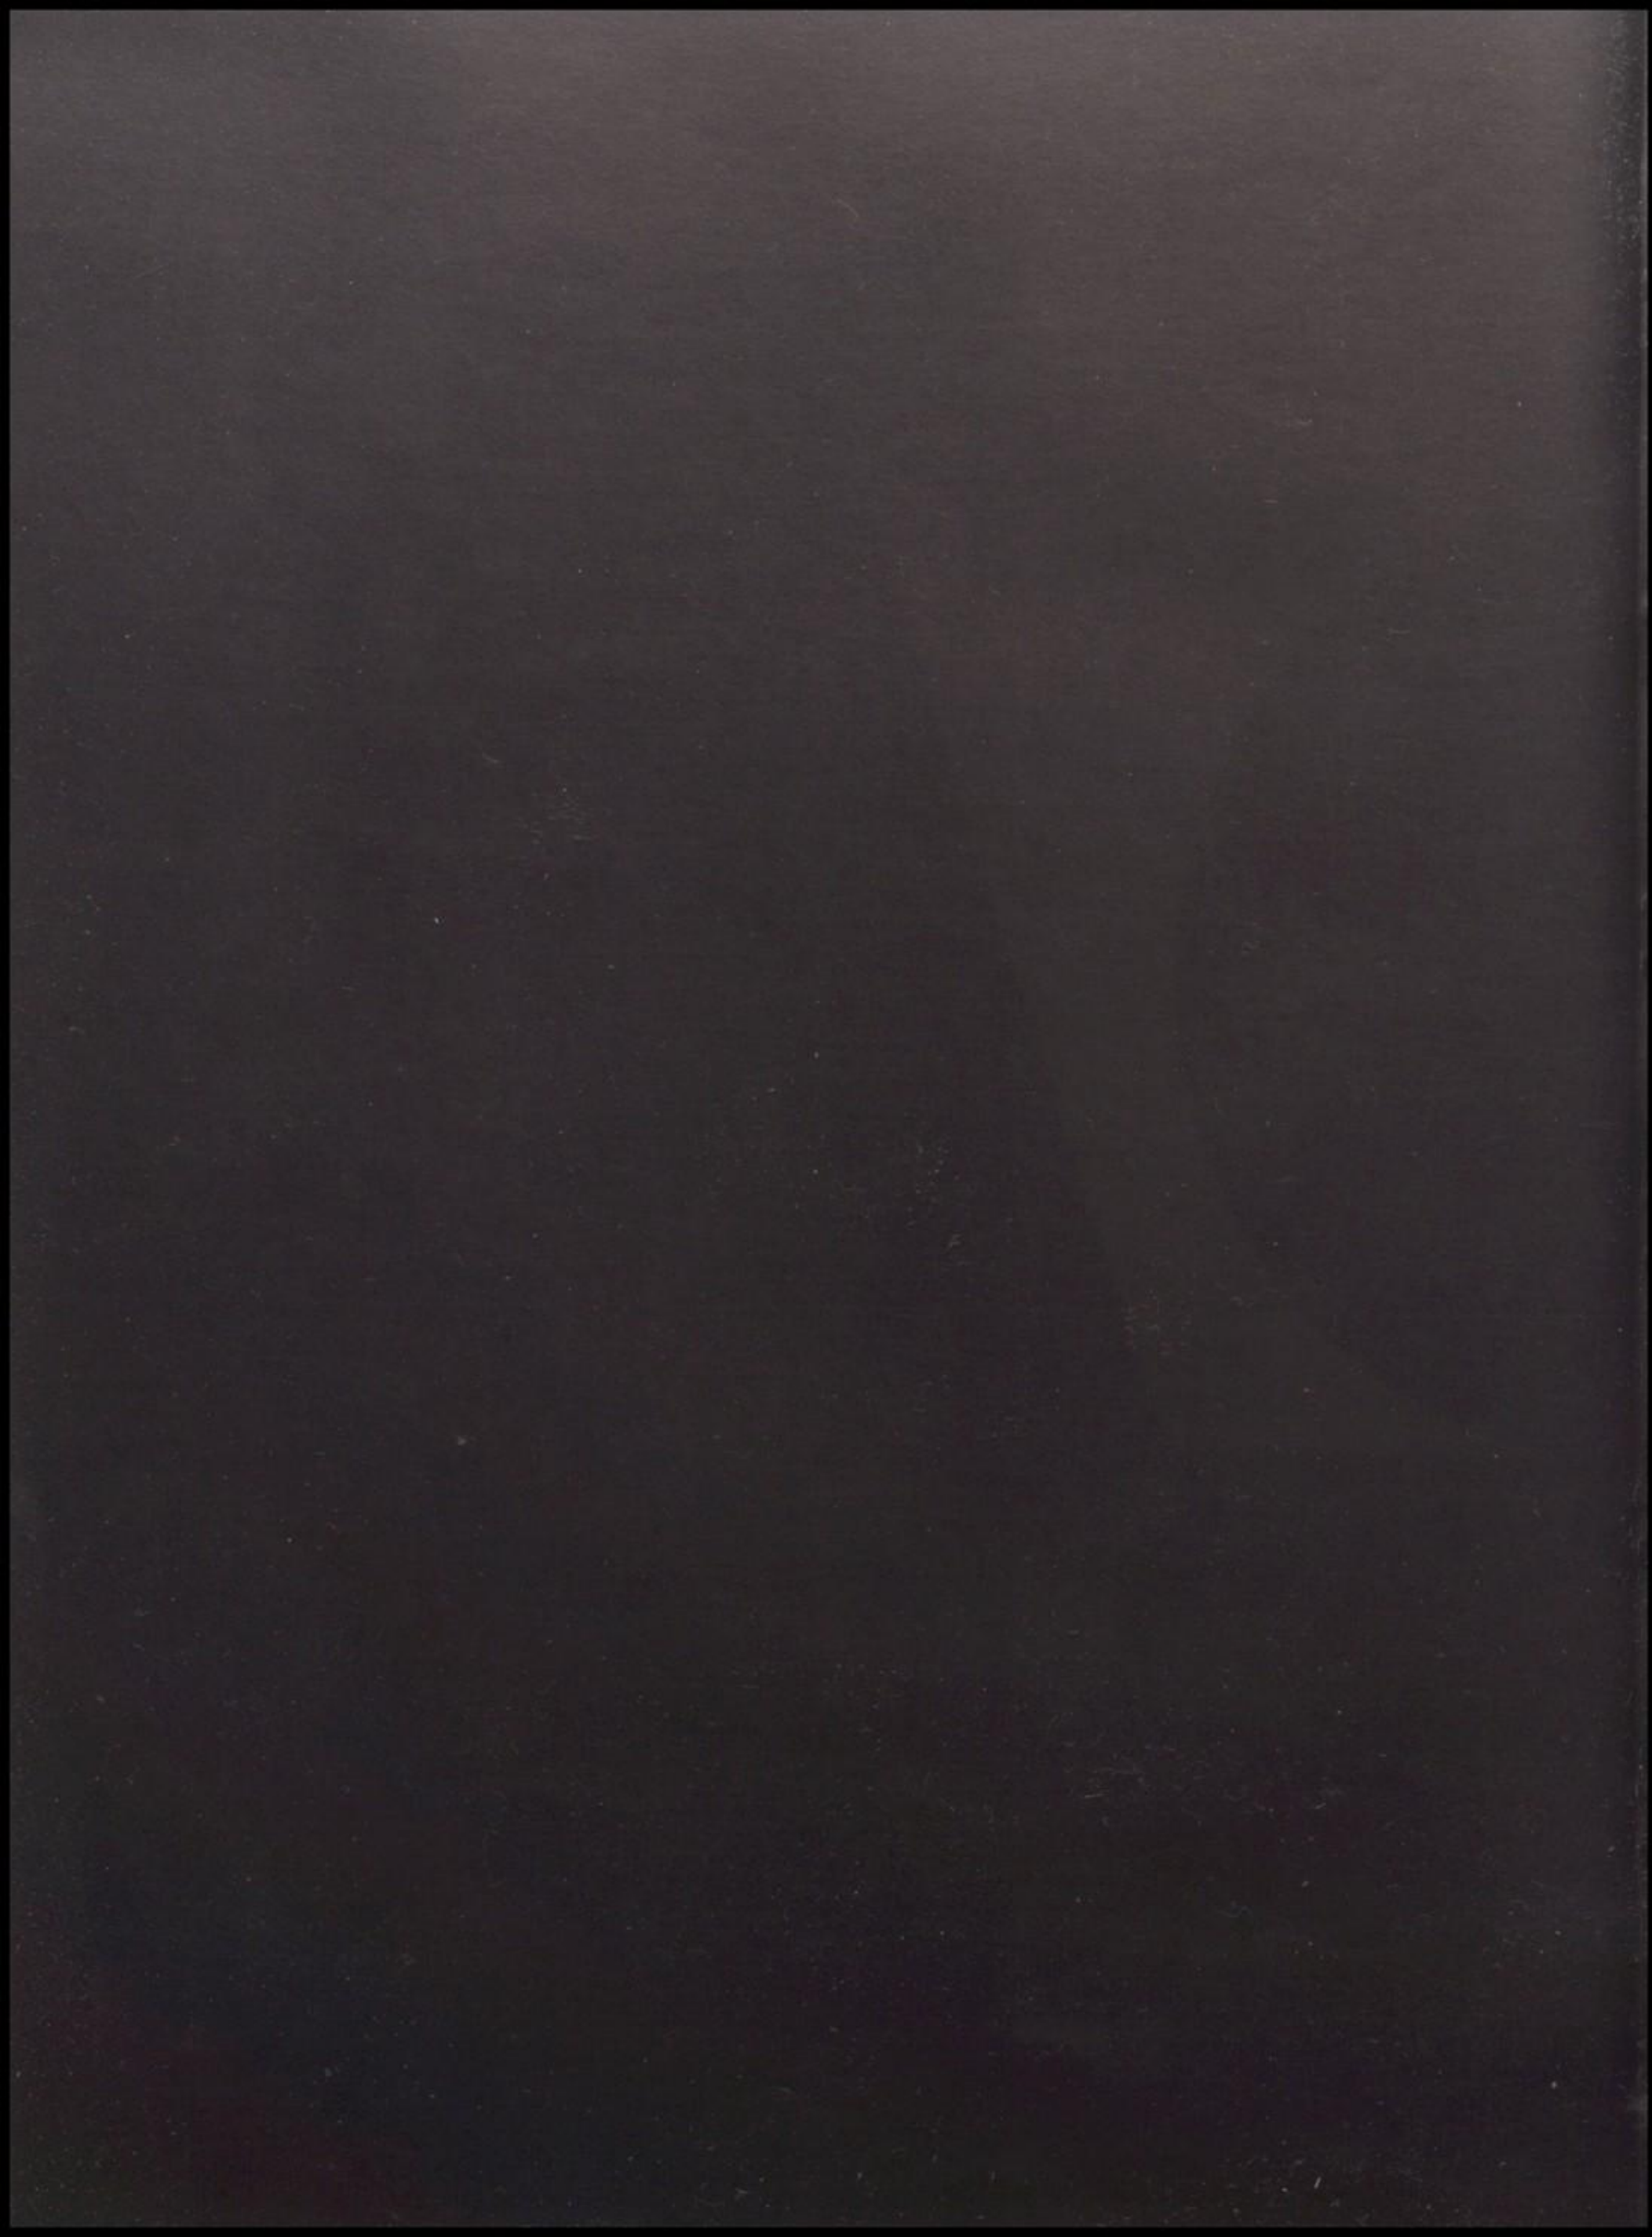

The Varsity cheerleaders got quite a helping hand from the Reserve squad. The Reserves added their vigor and vitality to the pep rallies and maintained this spirit throughout Reserve athletic competitions. Faithfully these cheerleaders rallied their team on to victory. Also, the Freshman cheerleading squad's job this year was to arouse the spirit and shouts of a class 450 strong. With the girls' pep and enthusiasm, the task was enjoyably accomplished in a mood of school spirit.

The more we know...

the more there is to learn

Education is like opening an endless series of doors. Behind each succeeding door lies new and exciting territory waiting to be explored. Finding the answer to one question opens the door to a myriad of related questions. Continuing to learn can be like spending the rest of your life unwrapping a surprise package.

✧ We know because we've been doing it throughout our corporate life. Every time we've thought we knew all there was to know about appliances, we've come upon 101 new questions looking for answers. It's sometimes difficult. It's always challenging. And it's always interesting. ✧ And we're sure an important reason for Hoover appliance leadership is that we've never thought of ourselves as know-it-alls.

THE HOOVER COMPANY a proud past...an exciting future

We've learned one thing about profit.

If you can't make a little of it...
you can't make much of anything.

Profit is what keeps a company's wheels turning. So it can keep turning out the products its customers rely on.

And our wheels have been turning continuously for seventy years.

Profit pays for our research and development. It helps us discover new bearing and steel uses.

Profit pays for new facilities. And it pays for the people who have helped to make the profit.

Can you help? Do you have the training and determination it takes to meet the challenges of today's moon-rocketing technology? When you graduate, come see us. And if you plan to go on to college, remember us for the future.

Surrounded by the tools of her trade is this year's hard-working business manager, Pam Harrison.

Disheveled editor, Barb Eckstein, takes a moment to contemplate the complexity of organizing a two hundred-page yearbook such as Hoover's Viking.

Looking over copy and pictures of the various clubs, honor organizations, and scholarship teams which are contained in the activities section of the yearbook are editor, Kathy Gibbons; and other activities staff members, Peg Bortz, Andrea Bozeka, and Joel Owens.

HOOVER'S SUPERSTAFF COMPILES VIKING

Beginning in the spring of '69 the 1969-70 yearbook staff embarked on a long year of preparation and exasperation. The staff's first job involved deciding upon a professional photographer. Summer brought a more complicated and time-consuming duty, organizing a ladder diagram. The ladder diagram, which was compiled by the various section editors, is a description of material to be on each page of the book. The layout was then drawn up by a professional artist.

Fall was the time for real bustling. All staff members were in high gear as they arranged for picture taking, wrote copy, and cropped photographs. The word "deadline" caused many nightmares. But now the staff is breathing easier for their work is done, and they can pass the responsibility and experience on to the staff of '71.

Trying to establish some semblance of order in the photography files is photo secretary, Debbie Knisely.

Combining their efforts to create an accurate classes section are Joanne Sturiale, Debbie Nagy, Joan Bernardino, and Karen Hall.

Cooperation between photographers, Mike Green and Debbie Reed, and other members of this year's staff has resulted in a better finished product, more expressive pictures.

With their perceptive eyes keyed to all of Hoover's sports events Pat Smith, Sue Armstrong (editor), Cindy Houston, and Pat Ellsworth must visualize the layout page.

Indexing the entire yearbook and keeping their many files in order are Nancy Bishop, Nancy Herrington, and Charlene Hudak.

The most frantic members of the staff are Becky Hertler and Julie Joliat, who are responsible for proofreading.

Lynda Petros points out a typing error to Barb Jewell as the other staff typist, Linda Oberlin, takes a practice round.

Those staff members who went out on the road to see to it that enough advertisement was sold to keep the annual "in business" are Susie McLinden, Lucy Wisniewski, Karen Lohr, Marsha Hill, Nadine Secunde, Sue Peters, and Joan Sigelmier.

In close contact with the faculty and administration are the members of the academic staff, Joy Trott, Debbie Stefan, and editor, Sally Farbeann.

STAFF EXUDES TALENTS

Jan Powell, Jan Tillitski, and Nadyne Slayman depend upon their creative insight to build a feature section which effectively portrays student life.

The Viking's most patient staff members, Jean Kabala, Jan Deibel (editor), and Susie Williams, are responsible for writing many eye-catching headlines that fit in odd spaces.

All fine musicians themselves, Lorrie Weeks, Cathy Kolp, and Faith Weston are especially well-suited to making the music section a cross-section of Hoover's music department.
